ALLOTMENT AWARDS 2009

Newbury's best allotment tenants were recognised this week for their cultivation skills and maintenance of plots.

Newbury Town Council presented prizes to six tenants who were judged to have kept the best allotment plot on each of our six sites, following inspections by Councillors last July.

The winners were:

Parsons	Linda Williams
Dairy Farm	Rose-Marie Naylor
Southby's	Bert Allison
West Mills	Rosemary Hillier
Wash Common	Keith Spires
One Tree Park	Dave Cole

Newbury Town Council also presented a trophy to the tenants of Wash Common Allotments, after they were judged to be the best site overall, only marginally ahead of the other five sites, which were all highly rated.

Martha Vickers, Town Councillor said that the standard was very good this year and that the allotments were "very well cared for". She added that it was a pleasure to inspect the sites and commended all tenants for the way they maintain their plots.
